

Scale Modified Breaks 21 Lap Barrier

Chris Grainger broke the Scale Modified race record, which he already held, with a time of 21:314.02s, the first 21 lapper for a 190mm rubber shod electric car around the Badshot Lea circuit.

The same club meeting held on the 6th August saw another eleven drivers set 20 lappers with personal best times from Ben Cane (20:314.00) and Matthew Quinlisk (20:315.71) being only good enough for a place in the 'B' final. A 19 lapper from Tim Pain left him in the 'C' final.

Kyosho TQ's BRCA

David Pitcher claimed Kyosho's first TQ at the recent AMCC BRCA Electric National round. Dave Spashett was on for TQ in his final qualifier but an error whilst lapping knock him off the pace.

Pitcher got the jump in the final but could not hold Spashett back for long, once spashett got in front no one could catch him. Pitcher must have thought he had a target on his car, he was eventually knocked down to sixth.

Beware Of Low Flying R/C Cars

A number of drivers have mounted the bank at the end of the main straight, some going right over. Some have even claimed to have gone over the low section of fencing behind the banking. But Greg Fairlie, driving a Serpent Impulse in the Scale IC class, has set a new high jump record.

Greg got a major radio glitch on the main straight which resulted in his car hitting the banking at full speed with enough force to launch it over the highest section of the fencing. His car was recovered and he managed to complete his qualifying heat with no apparent car damage.

British Touring Car Champions

On over hearing an argument about what is and what isn't a touring car, it got me thinking about the different BTCC cars and the number of rule changes over the years.

After some research I was surprised at what cars and drivers were listed as Touring car champions over the last 41 years.
